ANNUAL REPORT

combined health agencies drive

Local impact. Felt statewide.

TOGETHER, LIKE NEVER BEFORE

Our communities—including the chronically ill and their loved ones—were tested this year like never before.

Through the pandemic, we have gained a better understanding of what those with chronic illness may experience on a regular basis: the strain of isolation, ever-changing health protocols and an unpredictable future.

Despite the uncertainty, one thing is clear: We will all emerge stronger together.

We continue to witness and be inspired by acts of generosity seen in every single dollar donated during these stressful times. With your support, we are confident we can continue to help strengthen our family, friends and communities.

To meet the changing needs of our donors, CHAD has implemented virtual fundraising tools so campaigns can be conducted entirely online, if desired. Our member charities have also pivoted to meet new needs, offering virtual camps, support groups and conferences.

As we progress toward the future of our organization in the most health-stressed situation we have faced in recent history, we remain grounded in our core values to accomplish our mission—funding charities and changing lives. Please support our charities as we work together to build a better, stronger and healthier Nebraska.

ABOUT CHAD

CHAD (Combined Health Agencies Drive) is a donor-designation driven organization that has been raising funds for Nebraska's premier health charities since 1972.

As a unique, Nebraska-based organization, we make sure our 21 member charities are impacting communities across the state. Through generous donors, we raise funds statewide to help support our members' missions, allowing them to:

- Provide programs to those affected by health conditions, disabilities and end-of-life issues
- Fund education and prevention programs in our communities
- Support advocacy and medical research efforts

MISSION AND VISION

Our mission is simple: Funding charities. Changing lives.

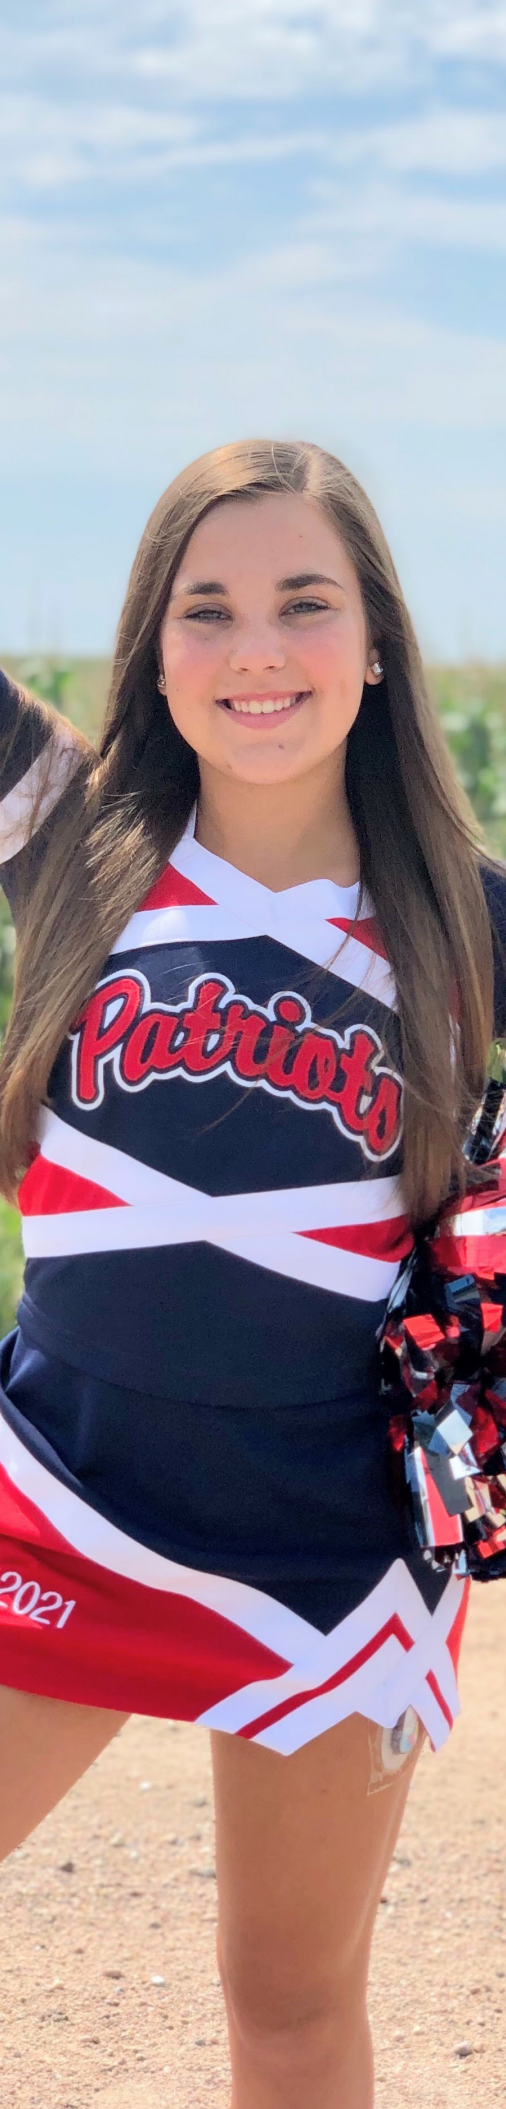

In accordance with our vision, we are raising awareness and improving lives for those facing chronic disease, disabilities and end-of-life issues. Most importantly, we connect people with health charities they are passionate about and give meaning and purpose to our supporters.

WHAT WE DO

More than ever, Nebraskans need care and support from local sources. To ensure it remains available, we:

- Promote employee engagement and wellness through workplace partnerships that connect people with the health causes they care about
- Engage our volunteers, including board members and stakeholders, to take action in our communities
- Award the annual CHAD Curt Gordon Memorial Foundation grants to our member charities to fund direct support for health programs whose impact is vital to individuals and the community
- Raise funds for member charities and grow charity impact

FUNDING CHARITIES

Generous donations fund vital programs and services across the state

“ Donations are a lifeline to our member agencies as they provide critical care and resources to families and individuals suffering from chronic conditions—many of whom are disproportionately impacted by COVID-19 and need more support than ever.

MICHELLE GROSSMAN, CHAD PRESIDENT AND CEO

ADVOCACY

Charity staff and volunteers advocate on state and national levels for those affected by chronic disease, disabilities and end-of-life issues. They advocate for increased funding of research, treatment and support. Eighteen CHAD charities advocate.

EDUCATION

After a diagnosis, it's important to have access to information in order to learn more and make decisions on next steps. Member charities provide information through conferences, helplines, online resources, volunteer outreach and more. All CHAD charities provide education.

EQUIPMENT LOAN/ADAPTATIONS

Member charities offer equipment loans and adaptations for those affected by chronic conditions and disabilities. Equipment loans and adaptations can improve quality of life. Three CHAD charities provide loans and adaptations.

CURT GORDON MEMORIAL FOUNDATION GRANTS

Distributions made from the Curt Gordon Memorial Foundation endowment fund are generated by funds from donors—above and beyond the annual workplace campaigns—across the state.

SUMMER CAMPS

Children affected by chronic disease can attend summer camps to learn about conditions and ways to thrive. They also meet peers who share their experience. Many camps shifted to an online version this year. Seven CHAD charities provide summer camps.

SUPPORT GROUPS

Support groups are offered for those affected by chronic disease or disability and for caregivers. This year, the pandemic required many of our charities to pivot to offering online support groups and meetings. Fourteen CHAD charities provide support groups.

VITAL PROGRAMMING

All charities offer support that is tailored to the needs of the people they serve. In addition to support listed on this page, charities offer programs like family and patient networking opportunities, online forums and more. All 21 CHAD charities provide vital programming.

CHANGING LIVES

Nebraskans share how CHAD and its member charities have impacted their lives

“ CHAD is the one and only organization that works together with, and for, several charities in our community. Each of these charities are helping so many individuals with their challenges in life, my daughter’s specifically being nephrotic syndrome. It provides a bit of comfort knowing the patients and their families are not battling this alone. CHAD provides resources and raises funds for several vital health charities. It has been an honor speaking for them.

JAMIE WARRINGTON, KEARNEY

I am a 16-year breast cancer survivor and have served as a board member for CHAD. As a volunteer for Susan G. Komen® Great Plains, one of the 21 charities that CHAD supports, I was instrumental in launching the Nebraska Breast Cancer Awareness license plate, which promotes awareness and early detection across Nebraska. CHAD’s generous support has helped Susan G. Komen® Great Plains continue these efforts, as well as fund breast health education, aid to women with breast cancer and research toward finding a cure—a cause that has become very important to me.

LINDA MCGILL, FRIEND

I have friends and family that have benefitted from at least 12 of CHAD’S member charities. My son has Crohn’s disease and I joined the Crohn’s and Colitis Foundation as a board member 15 years ago, when I served as a past president and community volunteer. I have witnessed the generosity of CHAD when they approved grants to the Crohn’s and Colitis Foundation, which allowed children with Crohn’s disease and Ulcerative Colitis to attend Camp Oasis, a special camp that brings together children with similar health issues.

JANEANE WHITNEY, OMAHA

GIVING HOPE, ONE MASK AT A TIME

CHAD was proud to join an effort to collect face masks for Nebraska's health care workers during the COVID-19 crisis.

The drive, organized by the Nebraska Health Care Association, aimed to collect a total of 5,000 cloth face masks. By the end of July, 6,867 masks had been collected and more were being accepted.

"We have been touched by the generosity of so many people who have made masks and brought them to our Omaha office," said CHAD President and CEO Michelle Grossman. "It's been an honor to be part of this initiative."

In addition to collecting face masks, the Nebraska Health Care Association—of which CHAD charity, Nebraska Hospice and Palliative Care Association, is a member—shipped face shields and distributed hand sanitizer in its COVID-19 relief efforts.

Grossman said nonprofits have played a key role in supporting vulnerable Nebraskans during the pandemic.

"From providing online support groups for people with chronic health issues to safely collecting blood donations in a time of urgent need, our member charities have done vital work to keep Nebraskans healthy."

Grossman remains optimistic about the future of Nebraska's communities.

"There's no doubt we're facing real challenges, but Nebraskans continue to show their generosity and care by donating to our member charities, not to mention making and donating thousands of face masks to support health care workers across the state."

I have been very blessed, never requiring services from CHAD's 21 kind-hearted health charities, until March 20, 2016. A beautiful day for a motorcycle ride...until it wasn't. A 16-year-old turned into my bike, tumbling me onto the grassy right-of-way. Damage to my leg was so severe that it had to be amputated. Thank goodness the Nebraska Community Blood Bank (NCBB) had an ample supply. I needed blood donations of 23 people to stay alive. I owe my life to NCBB, served by CHAD.

DALE JOHNSON, LINCOLN

CHAD has been an important part of my 26-year journey with Multiple Sclerosis. CHAD was instrumental in providing me with education and resources to learn about my disease process before the days of Google. I have had the privilege to serve as a board member and also campaign co-chair with my husband, Kent. Raising awareness for the 21 health charities CHAD supports has been very rewarding to us! We have personally and professionally seen the many benefits these charities provide to our community members.

ADRIENNE REDWINE, GRAND ISLAND

BOARDS OF DIRECTORS

Our three boards are comprised of business leaders from across the state. Each member charity has a representative on each board. The State Board of Directors serves as the governing board for CHAD. The Lincoln and West Central Boards provide leadership in campaign efforts in these areas.
